Karla Allen is a dynamic motivational/inspirational speaker, teacher, author, and coach with a passion to facilitate individuals in discovering God's original intent for their lives. Her mission is to inform, enlighten, and inspire the next generation to become innovative, creative, members of society who will impact families, communities, cities, regions, and nations.

For the past ten years, Karla has served students of diverse socioeconomic and cultural backgrounds. As a devoted educator in the public school system, Karla has fused her knowledge acquired from her Bachelor's Degree in Human Development, her teaching credentials, her Master's Degrees in Education and Administration, to emerge as a positive role model for students, trustworthy leader to leaders and reliable mentor to up-and-coming leaders.

Karla's entrepreneurial spirit afforded her the opportunity to establish the non-profit organization, West Coast Fusion. The organization provided principles for success for student athletes on and off the court. Currently, Karla is making it possible for individuals of all ages to release their potential in the literary business world through Fresh Reign Publishing where she serves as founder and president.

Through the foundational beliefs of building relationships, respect for others and personal accountability, Karla imparts fresh ideas for transformation and reinvention for the next generation.
